

American Revved Up Ford MX MXJ “Henry”

Introducing a unique brand of A-FORD-ABILITY to performance Labrador Retriever breeders

As we outlined on Henry’s webpage, we put forth extreme effort to determine Henry’s physical and genetic soundness to produce puppies with potential to excel in competitive venues. To that end, we are only interested in allowing Henry to sire puppies from females that have met specific screening criteria. Owners will be required to produce documentation proving female Labs have received:

- Hip certification with fair, good, or excellent ratings
- Elbow certification of “normal”
- CERF “clear” eye exam within past year
- EIC test with “clear” results
- Brucellosis “negative” results, applies to natural breeding only

You might have noted on his webpage that, in addition to the screenings listed above, Henry himself has also been cleared for PRA and CNM. Thus, he cannot produce puppies affected with PRA or CNM. You should be aware, however, that females who are affected or carriers can produce puppies that are carriers.

Because of Henry’s busy competitive schedule, we rarely offer natural breeding opportunities. Lab Henry’s stud fee is $750 for artificial breeding and $1050 for natural breeding (if available). As is customary, all other fees associated with breeding will be paid by owners of females. These additional fees apply to, but are not limited to, transportation of female, board/care of female, collection of semen, shipment of semen, and insemination.

Henry’s collection services, insemination, and shipment of chilled semen are generally managed by

A non-refundable deposit equal to one-half of stud fee is due at Henry's business address at American Dog Obedience Center, LLC, when female arrives or prior to shipping of semen. You must contact Britton Road Veterinary Clinic or Once Frozen Canine Breeders Service directly – and in advance – about payment of fees that relate to their professional services.

The balance of stud fee is due at American Dog Obedience Center, LLC within 7 days after the litter is born. Litter registration will be signed after the stud fee balance is paid.

In litters numbering 3 or fewer puppies, the stud fee will be prorated to $200 per puppy. If no puppies are produced, the original deposit minus $200 will be returned to owner of female. Should the female of a breeding in which no puppies resulted apply for a second breeding within one calendar year, the retained $200 will be applied to second deposit. Regardless of outcome, all other fees associated with a breeding remain the responsibility of the female's owner.
